Young at Art is an enrichment program that brings six creative, multi-media art projects to Pacific School. These projects are presented by a trained volunteer (art docent) who bring the art lessons and techniques into the classroom. You can join in the fun by helping a docent in your child's class. Young at Art is partly funded by generous grants from the Pacific PTA. The balance of funds needed for supplies comes from our various fundraisers, including the sale of our very popular and appealing Young at Art Class Note Pads.
